

Author guide

IVjournal is a simple effective way to publish. Getting your work published is easy. However, we do have a few simple rules to follow!

- ▶ Believe in what you written.
- ▶ Only submit original work. We accept research, literature reviews, case studies or product reviews. But we cannot accept manuscripts that are not original or have been submitted elsewhere.
- ▶ We do not really mind on the word limit. But remember, not too long or too short. We suggest 2,000 to 4,000 words (including abstract and references).
- ▶ Contributors will be asked to agree to a creative commons copyright agreement. See <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/> and <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/legalcode> for further information. In summary, readers will be able to freely copy, distribute and transmit the work if they comply to the following conditions a) they must attribute the work in the manner specified by IVprofessional, b) they may not use this work for commercial purposes and c) they may not alter, transform, or build upon this work.
- ▶ Manuscripts should be emailed in Microsoft Word format to the editor at andrew@ivteam.com
- ▶ Include the title of the manuscript, the name(s) of the author(s), qualifications, job title(s) and place(s) of work.
- ▶ Supply an email address of the main author.
- ▶ Tell us of the final word count.
- ▶ Provide an abstract of no more than 200 words.
- ▶ List a few key words.
- ▶ Include illustrations, charts or graphs if you can. Do not embed them in the manuscript – supply them as separate files.
- ▶ Obtain approval for the reproduction or modification of materials such as graphs and illustrations (as appropriate). Obtain written permission to reproduce the material and to correctly credit it.
- ▶ Details of sources of research funding, commercial affiliations and acknowledgements should provided.
- ▶ Use the Harvard system of referencing and provide a reference list.
- ▶ All references in the text must be cited from primary sources.
- ▶ Following submission all manuscripts are subject to a double blind peer review process.
- ▶ If you have any queries contact andrew@ivteam.com
